Description (include arrangement, types of material, subjects covered, processing notes, etc.):

Series documents the administration of the joint UT-NASA training program at the Lewis Research Center near Cleveland and the Plum Brook Research Station near Sandusky. The program provided graduate-level training in engineering by UT engineering professors for NASA employees. The program was terminated in 1987.

File includes: Budgets, contracts, financial negotiations, course descriptions, teaching assignments and schedules, and general information about the program. Also included in the file is information on a NASA-Joint Institute for Aerospace Propulsion and Power symposium held on November 30, 1982.

The series is arranged alphabetically by subject.
