

A Little Game of Questions Where Everybody Guesses the Correct Answer

Follow this and additional works at: <http://utdr.utoledo.edu/ur-87-68>

This Pamphlet is brought to you for free and open access by the Ward M. Canaday Center: University Archives at The University of Toledo Digital Repository. It has been accepted for inclusion in War Information Center Pamphlets by an authorized administrator of The University of Toledo Digital Repository. For more information, please see the repository's About page.

A LITTLE GAME OF QUESTIONS

WHERE EVERYBODY GUESSES THE CORRECT ANSWER.

PAMPHLET OFFICE

Why does Germany threaten with imprisonment and death anyone who listens to foreign broadcasts - those from her "friendly neighbors", Italy and Russia included ?

Why don't France and England prosecute their citizens who listen to German broadcasts ?

Why wasn't the Encyclic of the Pope published in its entirety ?

Why are so many S.S.'s and S.A.'s mobilized at a good distance from the front ?

Why are most German workers under martial law ?

Why is the German navy sticking so close to home ?

Why did the Commander of the Graf-Spee commit suicide ?

Why doesn't Germany publish the figures for her losses at sea ?

Why has Germany waived obligatory military service in Czechoslovakia ?

Why was Hitler in uniform in peace time ?

Why is M. Daladier in civilian costume even during the war ?

Why have the German movies lost the popularity they enjoyed abroad prior to 1933 ?

Why are the exiled German writers better known than the writers who have remained under Nazi domination ?

Why has nothing of German literature been translated since 1933 ?

Why does Germany slander England in France and France in England ?

Why hasn't the President of the French Republic a "personal escort" ? Why does Adolf Hitler have one, and why so numerous ?

Why, over the radio, is M. Daladier's voice so calm and unhurried ? Why is Hitler's excited and impatient ?

World War, 1939-