Davis, business manager of the paper will represent the University of Toledo at the Sixth Semi-annual Convention of The Ohio College Newspaper Association on Friday and Saturday, October 26-27, at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio. The business of the convention will include group discussions on news-gathering and editorial problems; reports writing; outside pictorials; and newspaper topography. There will be speeches by men who are prominent in the journalistic and newspaper fields. A few included are Professor Luxon, supervisor of the Ohio State "Lantern"; Lester Letzler, professor of journalism at Ohio State; Henry S. Walker, of the advertising staff of the Columbus Dispatch; and Howard B. Anderson, editor of the Westerville Public Opinion.

The association was organized at the University of Akron in the spring of 1926 with eight charter members. The University of Toledo being one of the charter members was represented by Charles F. Emch, editor of the Collegian in 1927-28. He was elected vice-president of the association. The membership of the association has steadily grown until now all the outstanding college papers of the state, except two belong. The larger ones are—Ohio Wesleyan, Miami, Berlin and Case.

The two delegates will collect and exchange ideas with other members.

Others in the group appointed by Ideout, president of the J-Hop, are Dorothy Wells, Margaret Mark, Mary Lou Albrecht, and Mel Ward.

SENIORS MUST ORDER RINGS BEFORE OCT. 27

Seniors must place their orders for rings on or before Saturday, Oct. 27, at the Toledo Jewelry Co. A deposit of $5.00 is required.

BRADLEY EXPLAINS BOND ISSUE POINTS

George Palmer Describes Alumni Work On Bond Issue

Dr. Glenn D. Bradley, professor of history at the University of Toledo explained the lists of statistics pertaining to the university, which were distributed among the students to be used as campaign material in the bond issue drive, at convocation, October 17. They showed the rating of each college and university in Ohio as to property value, registration, and housing value per student. In the latter item Toledo University ranked lowest. Information concerning the various phases of work in the university was also given.

Dr. Bradley introduced as the speaker of the morning, George Palmer, former Toledo university student, who described the effort being put forth by the Alumni Association to secure a new school. He urged the students to display that same fighting spirit that is shown on the football field in the bond issue campaign. A questionnaire is being prepared for use in canvassing, and it is desired that an accurate report be made on each party visited, so that reluctant voters may be approached by alumni members.

"I can remember," said Mr. Palmer, "when students at the university were so few, that convocation was held in room 120 of the old building. Now, this gym isn't anywhere near large enough. Three weeks from today will be the day after election; let's all gather here then and be able to have a great celebration, because Toledo is at last to have a worthy university."

The Kappa Psi fraternity gave a stag smoker at the American Legion Hall on Monday night, Oct. 22. A rush dance is to follow Thursday, Nov. 1, at the Auto-Lite Club.

DR. DOERMANN GOES TO NEW YORK CITY

The University of Toledo is to be represented by President Doermann at the convention of Urban Universities in New York, on the 15, 16 and 17 of November.

Problems to be discussed will be those of the universities in the various cities.

Watts Spends Summer Vacation

Sight-seeing in the Southwest

As Told to Charles Sweeney

Several months ago, wondering what he might do to pass the summer, Prof. Watts remembered Horace Greeley's famous advice to youth, "Go west, young man, go west." So he packed his family into the car and headed for relatives in New Mexico. His objective was to see Las Vegas and the intervening country. He was interested primarily in finding out just how these scattered neighbors of ours make their living.

After entering Colorado, he was much surprised to have the Rockies loom suddenly up in front of him. He stood on the plains and only six miles away toward Pike's Peak, in the thick of the mountains, but entirely unprotected by foothills. Here Prof. Watts turned south and went through the Raton Pass, 9,000 feet above sea level, and so into Mexico. He drove 145 miles over well-improved gravel roads across the level mesa land.

The town of Las Vegas is in two distinct parts—Mexican and American. The old Mexican part is built in true Spanish style, with a plaza in the center and business houses ranged around it. The Mexican homes are all of adobe construction. The streets are quite narrow with the sidewalks forming the very borders of them and the houses coming flush out to the edge of the sidewalks. The buildings are practically all of one story. They are not separated, but form a solid wall the length of the street. Few of the natives, Indians and Mexicans, enter greatly into the larger business activities, although they do in the small Mexican settlements. The American section of the town is, on the other hand, strictly modern. The buildings are of brick and wood and form a decided contrast to the others.

In the American section is situated a good Normal University which serves as an index to the status of the community.

The water supply for the town is obtained from a large storage basin. This has been formed by constructing a dam across a valley and diverting the water of the mountain streams into the basin. A part of the water thus obtained is also used for irrigation. Several thousand acres of land near Las Vegas are now under cultivation due to irrigation. Farmers raise sugar beets and small grains, wheat and oats. There are dry seasons of the year but Mr. Watts was there during the rainy weather. Each day, about eleven o'clock, a small cloud would appear, march down the valley and bring a short, heavy rain.

There are a number of small natural lakes scattered over the mesa. These, besides being an aid to irrigation, are wonderful fishing grounds. They are owned or leased by fishing clubs and their use is restricted to members and their guests. Each lake is kept well stocked with but one kind of fish.

Fishing is not restricted to the lakes. The swift mountain streams are filled with rainbow trout. One catches about 40 in three hours. There's no waiting, the fish are hungry and bite eagerly. Along these streams the hunter finds a paradise, too. Here are found deer, turkey, and wild grouse, as well as an occasional bear. Federal officers have killed off all mountain lions in the vicinity. Whenever one is discovered the federal hunters are notified. Dogs are put on the trail and men and animals

SEARLES TO SPEAK TO SCIENCE SOCIETIES

Pi Gamma Mu honorary social science society, will hold the first meeting of the year sometime in the early part of November. At this meeting Dr. C. F. Searles will speak on the "Recent Problems and Progress of the Chinese People." This meeting will be a dinner meeting at the Woman's City Building.

The chapter at the university is known as the Ohio Beta Chapter, as it is the second chapter to be organized in Ohio. It has a membership of about sixty. A great number of the members are graduates of the university, though any senior college student who has had twenty hours of sociology and is recommended by the board of faculty is eligible to membership. The officers for this year have not as yet been chosen, however one office must be filled by a member of the faculty and this year Dr. Searles will fill the position of secretary and treasurer.

The special aim of Pi Gamma Mu is to further the study of social science. There are chapters in many of the large universities of the country. They are all under national officers. Doctor C. J. Bushnell is one of the national vice-presidents.

T. U. CHEERLEADER ASKS FOR CHEERS

Loyal Calkins, one of the cheerleaders of the University of Toledo, has asked the students of the university to write up some original yells for use at the football games. These yells should be put in either his box or that of his twin, Lyle Calkins.

"The yells now being used at the games are inadequate and uninspired, and should be replaced by new ones," said Mr. Calkins.

REGISTRAR TO GIVE BIOGRAPHY TO BOOK

Miss Hazel Geiner, registrar of the University of Toledo, has been chosen as one of the one thousand promoters of higher education to submit her biography to the first annual edition of "Who's Who in American Education." The complete edition of this volume will be published by December 1, 1928.

PRESIDENT AND WIFE AT HOME TO FRIENDS

President and Mrs. Doermann will be at home, 2529 Monroe street, the first Sunday afternoon each month to members of the University and their friends.

Mrs. Doermann will be at home the second and fourth Thursday afternoons of each month.

STUDENTS' EFFORTS VITAL IN CAMPAIGN

Personal Contact Necessary
According to Student
Leader

"The success of the Toledo University Bond Issue will be due primarily to the use of a confidential campaign on the part of students and faculty", is the belief of J. Willard Rippon, general chairman of the Bond Issue campaign.

It is up to each student to make personal contacts with the voters in his respective precinct. Posters, stickers and speeches will help, but the real effective work will be that of the individual students.

Mr. Rippon stresses the point that student workers must not take too much for granted in their work. That is, they should not be too sure that a voter will vote for the bond issue without being asked to. Many citizens do not even realize that the university bond issue is up for approval this fall. A voter may be friendly to the university, but still not realize that his vote is needed.

Students are urged to acquaint themselves with the data given in the mimeographed sheets which can be obtained in the Registrar's Office. This material includes statistics on the amount of the bond issue, its effect on taxes, the growth of the University, what the university is doing, and a comparison of college building costs in the state of Ohio.

Mr. Rippon also asks that students keep in constant touch with their ward and precinct leaders.

University Girl Plays at Palace

Ruth McGinnis, Sophomore,
Is Chorus Girl in Broadway

When the final curtain was rung down on the Wright Players showing of the play "Broadway" at the Palace Theatre last Sunday, it closed a thrilling chapter in the life of Ruth McGinnis, Toledo University sophomore. For two weeks she played the part of Ruby, a fighting chorus girl. For a week before that she rehearsed every day from 11 A. M. until 5:30 P. M. Then, when she was "choked" out of the play in the final scene, she discovered how sorry she was that it was all finished.

In those three weeks her ideas of the people who make up a stock company underwent a radical change. She had always believed that actors were snobbish, but she found that all of them, including the director, ready and eager to do anything they could to help her or make her work easier by their kindness. The long practice sessions, lasting six or seven hours, without relief even for lunch, naturally were very trying, but she enjoyed even them. Of course these long hours made it necessary that she cut many classes, but she feels that the experience was well worth the cost.

She is now teaching under the Toledo Conservatory of Music and it was her experience there that enabled her to qualify for her part in the show. She expects to be given another part by the Wright Players next semester, when she will have more time.

At present she is studying natural science at the university and expects to teach this subject after graduation. Miss McGinnis is a member of Pi Delta Chi sorority.

M. L. DAVEY ADDRESSES U STUDENTS

Gubernatorial Candidate
Says Opponent Pays
For Votes

DR. JONES HEARS TALK

Hale Shenefield, Democratic
Adviser, Pleased
With Speech

"My rise or fall means little to the individuals of Toledo or Ohio, but the future government does", said Martin L. Davey, Democratic candidate for governor at a meeting under the auspices of the Democratic Club of the University of Toledo.

Mr. Davey said that his opponent spends more money than he makes known. He also said that an important question at the present time is whether public position can be bought. The speaker cited the case of Cincinnati, saying that his opponent has paid a large amount of money to the leader of a gang, composed of the lowest people in the city, to buy their votes.

The speaker also named several men who were expelled from the Senate after it was proven that they bought their positions.

Mr. Davey connected the question of buying offices with the young people who may go into political work. He said that future politicians will get their jobs according to their fortunes unless changes are made.

Mr. Davey commented on the "splendid student body" in conversing with G. Burman Curry, president of the Democratic Club.

Professor O. Garfield Jones, adviser to Republican Club, complimented members of the organization on securing this speaker. He said that it was a sign that the student Democrats are an active group.

Hale T. Shenefield, adviser for the Democratic organization, was greatly pleased with Mr. Davey's speech.

The presence of a number of Republicans at the meeting showed the interest of University students in the state campaign. Groups of students gathered in the hall after the address to discuss the talk.

MUSEUM ANNOUNCES EXHIBITS AND TALKS

The Toledo Museum of Art announces that the October exhibition, which includes the International Water Color Exhibition, will be held over until Sunday, Nov. 4. On Monday, Oct. 29, at 4 P. M., Elisabeth Jane Merrill, supervisor of education, will give her final talk on this exhibition.

The regular adults' Sunday concert is held at 2:30 P. M., followed by a thirty minute talk by one of the curators of the museum. Sunday, Nov. 4, Blake-More Godwin, director of the Museum of Art, will speak on "Glass in Ancient Egypt." All museum activities are free and open to the public.

STUDENT IN CRASH ON WAY TO SCHOOL

Wednesday, Oct. 17, brought other troubles than rain to Bob Campbell, Toledo University sophomore. While driving his Whippet out Dorset street, on his way to school, a Hupmobile dashed out from a side street. Unable to stop because of the wet pavement, Mr. Campbell crashed into the other car, driving it over the curb and against a telephone pole. The Whippet was not very badly damaged, but the other car will need quite extensive repairs. In the car at the time were Melvin Ward, junior, Charles Sweeney, sophomore, and Harland Diehl, freshman, all of Toledo University. No one was injured in the accident.

THANK DONORS

The Campus Collegian in behalf of the University of the City of Toledo takes this opportunity to thank Mr. Paul Vance of the Caslon Press, Mr. Lucian G. Medbury of the Medbury-Ward Company, and Mr. Carl Moening of the Central Ohio Paper Company for their generosity in contributing to the cause of the University.

Through the donations of these public spirited men the University is able to further aid their campaign for the bond issue by the use of posters. These posters bear the University official seal and the bond issue slogan.

TWELVE MORE DAYS

There still remains but a week and one-half until it is finally decided whether we shall have a new University location, or not. There are but twelve days in which to commit those voters to the need of a new institution.

"TOLEDO NEEDS A NEW UNIVERSITY—VOTE YES" is the slogan to be impressed on the mind of each voter. Carry it to them in the best way possible.

As George Palmer said at convocation last week. "If some one asked for five hours of your time to secure a new University, you would gladly give it."

Five hours is all that is necessary. It does not mean, however, that you should stop if you think you can help someone else do his bit.

It will certainly be with pride that we will be able to point back in later years and say, "I helped put over the bond issue campaign for a new University."

The slackers will not be able to conscientiously say anything but that they were enrolled at Toledo university when the new plant was built.

Will you be a swelled or a sunken-chest alumnus?

WHERE THE EDITOR?

The editor of the Blockhouse, annual student publication of Toledo university, has not yet been chosen.

It would seem that after the delays experienced last year and the inconvenience of the situation that some action should be taken soon.

The editorial staff has an immense task of determining the policies, style and makeup of the book. There are also advertising contracts to be made and a great amount of work in assembling the material for publication.

The choice of the editor should be made immediately so that he may appoint his executive staff. Work must be started to be able to publish a worthy annual.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

Toledo university was particularly fortunate in securing Martin L. Davey, Democratic nominee for governor, to speak to the students on Tuesday noon.

Mr. Davey was only in Toledo for one day and consented to talk under the auspices of the Democratic club. This will probably be his last visit to Toledo before the election.

He was especially pleased with the student body and with their appearance.

THINK

Governor Alvin T. Fuller, in a recent speech, said: "Education is becoming widespread. A very heavy responsibility rests upon the individual in every self-governing modern state. He owes it to himself to take every advantage of these educational opportunities, whether for youth or for adults which his community offers, to inform himself candidly and as thoroughly as may be upon those questions which require an immediate answer, and to hold himself free from bigotry, intolerance, and lust for persecution, which unhappily still linger."

Entirely too many of us are content to accept the ideas and opinions of others, never stopping to think for ourselves, and having thought, making our own decision. It is so much easier and less tiring to accept the other fellow's idea of the thing, and drift along with the stream. Education is a process of teaching the individual to think. It is a pity that it cannot be carried out to the extent that the individual learns to think for himself.

THE RUSHING TRAVESTY

The fraternities on the Dickinson campus—at least some of them seem to have lost sight of the purpose of a rushing season. Instead of helping a new man find a home where brotherhood and ideals are formed, they create an artificial glamor to capture his fancy; instead of entertaining him as a friend who is invited to their home for a social evening, they turn their house into a night club.

During the rushing season just closed, some fraternities introduced expensive jazz orchestras, special newspapers giving the frosh individual write-ups, and some even went so far as to offer a burlesque troupe as part of their stunt. If that is what a fraternity stands for, then there are many fraternity men in Dickinson who are justly proud of their status.

Fraternities do foster ideals and are founded on sound ethical principles. Brotherhood does exist in the fullest sense of the word. But why hide idealism to the world? Why not drop this expensive program of rushing and return to a simple en-

Book Review

THE FORBIDDEN WOMAN (MOCATTA)

By D. Mason

This title sounds as though it might belong to some superhectic sex-movie, but it really is very misleading. "The Forbidden Woman" is an interesting study of the ever-present race situation; the story of an octoroon girl with the appearance and mind of her white ancestors, and the emotions and instincts of the blacks. She thrusts herself, by means of blackmail, into the highest of English society; but even though she is accepted as a white girl, her associates dimly realize she is not one of them.

Her exotic beauty infatuates a young Englishman of high social standing who had formerly been in love with her all-white half sister and she tricks him into a proposal. She betrays her negro blood however, and in the end, crazed by despair and religious fervor, she throws herself in the river. Her negro lover, who has been faithful through all her erratic actions, attempts in vain to save her and they drown together.

The picture of Antoinette, the octoroon, is very strongly drawn; the other characters are almost insipid beside her. Joe Cassius, the man who loves her is too heroic. No one could stand the insults and the cruel treatment that he did and still meekly turn the other cheek. The white half-sister, Mary Lou Dumas, is a sweet, rather stupid, and very indefinite young girl.

The book is well written and shows plainly the misfortunes and troubles that face the unhappy children of mixed marriages.

Ohio Wesleyan University (OCNA)—Plays football on Saturday and preaches on Sunday. That's the record of Norman Scribner, Baltimore, Md., giant tackle on the Ohio Wesleyan football team.

He played with Wesleyan against Cincinnati Saturday and preached Sunday morning at the North-South Methodist Episcopal church in Cincinnati.

Miami University (OCNA)—The bands of Ohio Wesleyan and Miami University combined for a monstrous parade and maneuvers as one of events on Miami University's homecoming program last Saturday.

PROFESSOR MOLINA IN MANY REVOLTS

Why have there always been so many revolutions in South America? This question is often asked of Professor Felipe Molina, instructor of Spanish in the University of Toledo. "Revolutions are an inseparable part of Spaniards' lives," Mr. Molina says. "Political factions never actually hate each other. But when governmental routine becomes dull, someone complains, 'There hasn't been any excitement lately. Let's have a revolution. And they do have one.'"

Professor Molina when 14 years old, responded to the call of adventure and fought in a revolution. In a later one he received on his left hand 25 cuts.

A New York authority says most people still take baths on Saturday night. This shows how a custom will hang on—they used to do it because they were going to church on Sunday—(OCNA).

SORORITY RUSHING DATES ANNOUNCED

At the last meeting of the Inter Sorority council the dates for the various sorority rush parties were announced. Rushing period will begin from Nov. 12 to 24, and silent period will begin at midnight, Nov. 24, and end at noon on Tuesday, Nov. 27.

The following dates were assigned to the sororities: Nov. 13, Pi Delta Chi; Psi Chi Phi; Nov. 14, Pi Theta Psi; Nov. 15, Kappa Pi Epsilon; Nov. 17, Psi Chi Phi; Nov. 19, Kappa Pi Epsilon; Nov. 20, Pi Theta Psi; Nov. 21, Pi Delta Chi; Nov. 22, Psi Chi Phi; Nov. 23, Phi Theta Psi; Nov. 24, Pi Delta Chi, Kappa Pi Epsilon.

Studies Plant In Diver's Suit

Dr. H. H. M. Bowman Writes for Several Science Magazines

Diving into the Caribbean Sea in a diver's suit to do work on sea plants is among some of the more interesting experiences of Dr. H. H. M. Bowman in his experiments and research. Dr. Bowman has recently received a letter from Dr. J. K. Small of the New York Botanical Gardens making inquiries concerning some of these sea plants.

Dr. Bowman's articles on these plants were published in "Science," a weekly scientific magazine and in the "Proceedings of the Michigan of Science," published yearly.

The New York Botanical Garden is preparing a work on the flora of North America and the findings of Dr. Bowman will probably be included in the information on sea plants in the Caribbean Sea.

"Especially interesting," Dr. Bowman says, "is the way in which the plants pollinate. The pollen forms in stringy mucous like threads which go from plant to plant."

Dr. Bowman also received communications from Dr. C. H. Ostenfeld of the Danish Botanical Institute, Copenhagen, Denmark, requesting information on these. Dr. Ostenfeld has been doing research on plant life in the eastern hemisphere.

Dr. Bowman is a member of the editorial board of Biological Abstracts. He has been doing work especially from German, French, and other foreign articles. This board publishes 10 volumes yearly.

Dr. Bowman has been requested by the Pinkerton Tobacco Company to do some work for them on molds.

STUDENT OPENS SANDWICH SHOP

Joanna Roberts, 19, a freshman at the University of Toledo and a graduate of Scott High School, owns and runs a sandwich shop on Nebraska Avenue across from the University.

Miss Roberts does her own buying, works in the shop herself during the noon hour, and is assisted during the day by her mother and three university men, "Bill" Elmer, Curtis Potter, and "Tubby" Culbertson.

The young proprietor said, "My first day at the University I was literally starved standing in the lunch line. I thought of the possibilities of a sandwich shop, and right then I decided to start one."

Miss Roberts remarked that the business has grown steadily since the opening day on Wednesday, September 29, and that she soon hopes to do some interior decorating.

The young lady lived formerly in Pittsburgh and came to Toledo three years ago.

"I was rather prejudiced against Toledo University, but I like it now; the students are friendly, and the attitude is so different from that in most schools," she said.

Miss Roberts is taking library training this year and plans to attend Western Reserve University sometime in the future.

DOROTHY JACKSON WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Dorothy Jackson, Toledo university sophomore, won the annual scholarship audition in the Toledo Conservatory of Music. This scholarship is given by Epsilon chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary musical sorority, and the contest is open to students of voice, violin and piano between the ages of 14 and 25.

Miss Jackson is active in the W. A. A., and is a member of Phi Theta Psi sorority.

MANY TEXT-BOOKS STILL ON SHELVES

The Book Store still has some books on hand that have been ordered and not called for. Walter's "Vertebrae" books are obtainable now. Students having ordered such books are kindly asked to purchase them as soon as possible.

Those students who have ordered books at the downtown building, corner of 11th and Illinois Streets, should remember that such books are obtainable there only.

"Toledo University" plates for automobiles also are on sale at the book store.

DOROTHY SCHREIBER TO ENTERTAIN CLUB

The first social meeting of the year of the Spanish Club will be Sunday afternoon, October 28, at the home of Dorothy Schreiber, University Sophomore, 1489 Hagley Road. The following are directions to this address: turn right on Jackson Road from Sylvania Avenue, to the Homeville sign; turn right on Hagley Road.

The program will include words of welcome by the president, Geraldine Leitner, and games which will be played later.

INSTRUCTOR ENROLLS AS T. U. STUDENT

George Lamb, well-known at University of Toledo is both a teacher and a student. He attends late-afternoon classes, and in his junior year at the University. In the morning he is an instructor in printing at the Vocational school.

He is one of only a very few qualified to teach under the Smith-Hughes act, because of the practical experience necessary. He and his brother, Harry, own and operate a printing shop.

DOERMANN ATTENDS URBAN U. MEETING

Dr. Henry J. Doermann will represent Toledo University at the convention of the Association of Urban Universities, Nov. 16, 17, 18, in New York City.

At this convention problems of the municipal university will be discussed and new projects introduced.

Pride In University Shown By Members Of Freshman Class

Praise for the University of Toledo is spoken by members of the freshmen class. Most of the expressions by the first year students show pride in what the university is accomplishing and a hope for a chance for greater things through the approval of the pending bond issue.

Fred Young, 527 Crittenden Ave., who holds the distinction of being the smallest member of the freshman class, says, "I like the attitude taken by the sophomores and freshmen, in view of the request of Dr. Henry J. Doermann and the faculty. As to caps, I prefer green to any other color and I believe that the little touch of yellow adds a slight modernistic touch to the head dress of the freshmen."

Another student is impressed with the more serious aspect of the university. Orval Gockerman, 1014 Orchard Street, remarked, "I think I shall learn more in shorter time than is required in high school. The assignments are longer and harder though. I hope the bond issue goes through."

James Remmele, 545 Hampton Ave., says, "When the university gets a new campus and new buildings it will grow rapidly in popularity. I think the faculty is very good, and the students generally are friendly."

Likes Democratic Spirit
Betty Genac, 3858 Homewood Ave. says:

"There is a more democratic spirit at the University than in high school, and I like it very much. But know I should like the school better if it were in a different location."

Robert Turner, 828 West Grove Place remarks: "I came all the way from Florida to attend Toledo University. I like the faculty. The upper classmen have not been the least bit snobbish as I had heard they would be."

Norma Wells, 4151 North Haven, says: "The University is much different than I expected it to be. The teachers have been very helpful

NORMALITES TROUNCE ROCKET GRID TEAM

Playing against the team who are slated to take the championship of the N. W. O. conference, the crippled Rockets lost to Bowling Green, 14 to 0 last Friday.

The Toledo kick off was brought back to the B. G. 35 yard line by Bennie Pencheff, former Waite Star. Treece punted to the Rocket 10. After failing to gain their ten yards in two downs, Thompson punted to the 26 yard line. Toledo was penalized five yards. Carroll came through center for four and added two more off left tackle. Pencheff slid thru tackle for fifteen yards and have given much advice. I like the social room."

Cousins Before Him

James Klopfenstein, 2020 Hawthorne Ave., intends to stay at the University all four years of his college career. His reasons for coming there were several. Three cousins preceded himself and reported favorably on the opportunities offered. Moderate expenses were another inducement.

Walter Gfeller, 4543 Lewis Ave., a member of this year's freshman class says that he entered the University of Toledo because it enabled him to live at home, and also because it offers a good course in pharmacy, in which he is interested.

Another freshman, Cloyd Parmelee, 1069 Palmwood Ave., started in this year at Toledo University because, after working for six years, he felt the need of a college education, and the University offered him this opportunity plus the advantage of living at home.

Philip Ball, 1237 Varland Ave., of this year's freshman class, says he plans to enter the United States Naval Academy next year, and that he found that the University offers splendid instruction along lines which he expects to follow in the Academy.

Objects to Whistles

Bob Elwell says, "The U's all right except for the train whistles." This is merely another way of expressing the attitude of Mary Lou Voss, who thinks the U. too fine a place to be near the railroad tracks.

Ron Saffen, 3251 Cottage Ave., thinks that the program during freshman week was the most interesting he has ever heard of. "The spirit was most remarkable and I certainly will do my part to bring about the success of the campaign for a better school."

Gertrude Dimke, of 1112 Norwood avenue, entered the University of Toledo this year because it offered to freshmen the courses she desired to take in preparation for entering the Boston School of Expression.

POSTERS DONATED BY BUSINESS MEN

The posters for the University bond issue campaign were donated by several of Toledo's business men.

The printing was done by the Caslon Press under the direction of Mr. Paul Vance, the zinc etching by Mr. Lucian Medbury of the Medbury-Ward Co., and the paper stock by Mr. Carl Moening of the Central Ohio Paper Co.

GIVES ACCOUNTING WORK IN EVENING

Louis M. Feldstein, 2224 Franklin Avenue, instructor in commerce, teaches evening classes in accounting problems, and works in a department store during the day. He received his degree from the University of Pittsburgh after completing work in business administration. He studied engineering one year at Carnegie Tech. Mr. Feldstein is a member of Gamma Sigma fraternity.

GERTRUDE BRUCKER SUMMERS IN PARIS

Miss Gertrude Brucker, teacher of French in the University enjoyed a most interesting summer in Paris, leaving Toledo right after commencement in June, returning the middle of August. She spent the entire two months in Paris, attending some literature classes at the Sorbonne and enjoying other delights.

Miss Brucker likes Paris in the summertime more than in winter. "The weather is glorious; the people practically live out of doors and everything is more vigorous and animated in summer time," she says.

Bowling Green kicked off to the Toledo 20 and Schlemmer punted dead on the B. G. 45 as the quarter ended. Score: Bowling Green, 7; Toledo, 0.

Bowling Green failed to gain and punted outside on the Toledo 35. Pencheff intercepted a Toledo pass. A pass was good and it was Bowling Green's ball on the Toledo 9. Thompson intercepted a B. G. pass and ran 50 yards to the B. G. 40 before Pencheff downed him. A pass gave Toledo first down on the B. G. 22 and two line plays put it on the 18 where Bowling Green held. After an exchange of punts, Toledo had the ball on the B. G. 38. Kazmaier made 9 off tackle and Dunn went through center for first down. A pass, Dunn to Sharpe was good and Toledo had another first down on the B. G. 15. Two passes were incomplete as the half ended.

The third quarter was a punting duel between Thompson and Treece with the former having a slight edge. After an exchange of punts in the fourth quarter, Bowling Green had the ball on their own 43. A pass, Treece to Thurrot made first down on the Toledo 31. Carroll and Pencheff made first down on the Toledo 16. Carroll made another first down off tackle and a moment later plunged over for a touchdown. Treece kicked goal. There was no further scoring. Final score: Bowling Green, 14; Toledo, 0.

The work of Draves and Schlemmer featured on the line, while Thompson's punting was remarkable.

WATTS VACATIONS IN FAR SOUTHWEST

stick to it until the fugitive is found.

Prof. Watts went back only 25 miles from Las Vegas and lived in a cabin for three weeks. Here he was deep in the woods and only a few miles further was a real wilderness, uninhabited and wild. This has not even been opened to the extent of riding trails. There are native forests of pine, aspen, spruce, fir, and balsam, and occasionally one comes across open spaces where forest fires have raged years before. Here, amid the fallen logs, grows luxuriant pasture for cattle. The government owns much of this mountain land and charges ranchmen a dollar per head for grazing of cattle per year.

Although the cattle herds seem somewhat depleted, there still seem to be quite a few in that part of the country. Mr. Watts saw a real old-fashioned cowboy roundup with all attendant thrills. In the mesa country there are great herds of sheep. This country, where it is not irrigated, is barren of trees or houses, and cattle and sheep just barely exist upon it.

Prof. Watts rode up into the Elks Mountains, 13,000 feet above sea level. From this vantage point he looked back into the peaks of Colorado and ahead out over a hundred miles of mesa land. He was above the tree line, but not yet in snow, though snow lay on surrounding peaks.

Traveling in the mountains is by horse only, although one occasionally must go on foot. The sturdy little ponies are great mountain climbers, going down steep, rocky slopes without a slip. They travel through the mountains in single file. The head horse, seemingly senses his responsibility, for he steps carefully along, watching the trail carefully, with ears erect. The rest of the line trod sleepily along, heads hanging and ears drooping, until one of them is put in the lead when he immediately assumes his attentive attitude. They know the trails and may be depended upon to take the shortest and best way home.

Prof. Watts found out something else about these mountain horses. He believes that the movies have been fooling us all these years, or that there must be something queer about our favorite western movies, for he discovered that a horse cannot run in the mountains because of the effect the altitude has upon them. And this despite everything the movies may show or claim.

BRAND No. 1 . . . "doesn't appeal to me"

BRAND No. 2 . . . "we'll waste no time over this"

BRAND No. 3 . . . "as smooth as a winter broadcast"

BRAND No. 4 . . . "full of static . . . No. 3 wins!"

On the afternoon of July 24th, Graham McNamee, in the presence of responsible witnesses, made the blindfold test before the microphone. A camera and stenographer recorded the result.

"This is Graham McNamee speaking . . . broadcasting the results of the blindfold cigarette test. They are trying the blindfold around my eyes and are going to give me one each of the four leading brands to choose from . . . I am now smoking the first cigarette . . . The taste doesn't appeal to me. It's a bit harsh. We'll lay that one aside and try No. 2 . . . No, that's worse than the first one. We'll waste no time over that . . . Well, here's No. 3 . . .

Ah, that's different! As smooth as a broadcast on a starry winter's night . . . Now, No. 4 . . . something wrong with this one. Don't know what. Seems full of static. I'll choose No. 3.

LETTERMEN DESIRE VARSITY T CLUB

WHERE THE VARSITY CLUB?

School has been in session five weeks and the Varsity "T" Club is the last organization to get started. In fact, it has not yet been started and there is little indication of anyone with enough get-up to begin it.

A Varsity Club is an organization that should be in every school as it can put the athletic activities of the school "over the top". Then too, it allows those letter men not in school a better contact with the student body.

At Bluffton College, the Varsity "B" Club has already had three meetings and has settled down to the work in hand in fine fashion. Their first great work was in arranging a huge celebration for home-coming day. Besides they decorated the field and sold refreshments at the game. At their last meeting they adopted a standard Varsity "B" ring and brought up the question of a standard Varsity "B" sweater. This shows what can be done by an up to date organization.

Last year, Lincoln Bradley was elected president of the Varsity "T" Club; George Proshok, vice-president; and Don Emch, secretary-treasurer. Of these three only Don Emch is back.

Coach Dave Connelly gave the club invaluable aid in its reorganization last year, but it would almost be too much to ask his aid this year as he is coaching the cross-country, football, and basketball teams, besides holding physical educational classes.

There are many letter-men in Toledo university who would back such an organization and all they need is a leader.

A NEW CONFERENCE?

An article was printed not long ago on Toledo university's entering the Ohio Conference. If it were the number of students enrolled that counted, Toledo would have been given first choice to enter. But such is not the case, for it is the athletic prowess of a school that gets it in such a conference. If a position was open for a N. W. O. C. team to fill, it would be given to the team that has proven itself the cream of the conference along athletic lines.

If the athletic ability of the N. W. O. C. schools were considered for the year 1928, Toledo university would be given little or no consideration. By the 1928 standards, Bowling Green State Normal would have the best chances of being accepted in the Ohio Conference. At present they are Conference champions in basketball, baseball, and track and by defeating both the Rockets football and cross-country teams last Saturday, they have removed the biggest threats to their chances of winning the Conference championship in both these sports.

But even with athletic ability it will be practically impossible for any team to crash into the Ohio Conference as it is overcrowded now. Rather, instead of taking other teams unto the fold, it is more than likely that several teams will be ousted.

Something much be done about the football situation in Ohio. The Ohio Conference is overcrowded and the N. W. O. C. hasn't enough in it. About the only relief to the problem would be to divide the State into four districts, Northeastern, Northwestern, Southeastern, and Southwestern, each district to be composed of six or eight teams. The district winners could then arrange post-season games to decide the State championship.

STICK WITH THEM

Injuries have played a very important part in the losses of the Rocket gridders the last two weeks. Several of the Toledo squads best men have been handicapped by strained knees, ankles and shoulders.

Again the lack of sufficient reserve strength has been noticeable. Several of the second string men have "turned in" their equipment because they "did not have a chance."

The player with real grit and determination will have "his chance". It is the proverbial quitter that never reaches elusive success.

Stick with them. They will come up on top, because they are fighters.

EXPLAINING CROSS COUNTRY

"What is cross-country?" is the question many are asking. The Varsity men of cross-country are frequently asked such questions as, "How many races did you run in?" "Do you all run the whole three and a half miles or is it a relay race?" "Why is it that the team having the least number of points wins the race?"

In order to enlighten such questioners, now and forever, a thorough explanation of this mysterious sport will be given.

A cross-country race is only run once and there are no try-outs. The distance run is three and one-half miles. It is not a relay race—all runners must, somehow or other, struggle through the entire distance. And it is a struggle.

And now the biggest mystery of all—"Why is it that the team having the least number of points wins the race?" The winner of a cross-country race gets one point; the second man gets two points; the third man counts three points; and the fourth man, four points. Then the total points scored by a team of five men are added up and the team having the least number of points wins.

COACH D. CONNELLY STARTS COURT WORK

Toledo to be Hard Pressed In Every Game Played

Basketball practice at the University of Toledo began Tuesday October 23. Coach David Connelly held two light practice sessions during the week in order to limber up the candidates. Several of the try-outs have been getting into condition since the beginning of school, so as to be ready for the coming season. Next week Connelly expects to increase the practice sessions to three nights. From then on the men will be required to be on the basketball court every night.

The coming season's schedule will be one of the hardest ever undertaken by the local five. Coach Connelly predicts that every team in the Northwestern Ohio Conference will put out good teams. "Toledo will be hard pressed in every game it plays and there will be no easy games this year."

As there are several men out on the football team, among them Oscar Griffith, Elmer Schlemmer, and Maynard Smith, Coach Connelly does not expect to get down to hard practice till after Thanksgiving.

Among the veterans that are back this year are Bill Walker, Bob Pocotte, Russ Willeman, Abe Steinberg, Jim Lasley, and Maynard Smith. McKenzie Thomas from Libbey, Lin Stevens and Oscar Griffith from Woodward, and Ronald Saffen from Scott are some of the promising try-outs who are working hard for positions on the squad.

TOLEDO U. HARRIERS DROP MEET TO B. G.

The Toledo University cross-country team lost the second meet of the season at Bowling Green last Friday, 24 to 31. The race started just before the Bowling Green vs. Toledo foot-ball game.

Edwin Duquette of Bowling Green finished first in the three and one-half mile race in 9:32. Allen Ballinger of Toledo finished second in 19:37, with Lester Hanna of Bowling Green a close third. Karl Shull of Toledo finished fourth. The remaining six runners finished in the following order: Lerch, Bowling Green; Kutz, Toledo; Porter and Rineold, Bowling Green; Nunemaker and Phillips, Toledo.

Edwin Duquette, the winner of the race, proved to be a real competitor for the harriers. He holds the high school interscholastic record for the one-half mile in the state of Ohio.

HONORARY SOCIETY TO INITIATE EIGHT

The pledges for the Peppers, honorary women's organization of the University of Toledo will be put on probation Wednesday, Oct. 31, 1928 and the membership pledge will be on Wednesday, Nov. 7.

The pledges are Mary Elizabeth Crowder, Geraldine Leitner, Mary Henry, Doris Vipond, Mary Parker, Dorothy Mason, Dorothy Wells, and Helen Hoffman.

NIGHT STUDENTS TO HOLD CONVOCATIONS

Night school classes will take part in the backing of the University bond issue. Organization for this work will be carried out by a series of convocations beginning on the evening of Oct. 23. At the first meeting Dr. Doermann and Dr. Bradley will speak.

An average of 325 students have been in attendance the first four sessions of night school. The night classes are very crowded, even more so than the day classes.

MEETING POSTPONED BY IRV. HARBRIGHT

The Student Y meeting, formerly scheduled for Friday, Oct. 26, has been postponed until a later date. Names of prospective members will be discussed at that time.

Irving Harbright, president of the organization, urges that all men who have filled out membership cards return them to the members from whom they were received.

Goaline (In shoe store): "I want a pair of squeaky slippers, size 10."

Shoe clerk: "Squeaky slippers. For whom?"

Goaline: "For father, so George can tell when he's coming down the hall."

BALLINGER CHOSEN HARRIER CAPTAIN

Allan Ballinger was appointed captain of the Toledo University cross-country team by Coach Connelly, last Monday.

This position is usually given to the oldest man on the team and this is Ballinger's third consecutive year.

Ballinger was on the 1926 team which was Toledo's first venture in cross-country running. That year the Rockets won the Northwestern Ohio Conference Championship. Ballinger finished third in that meet.

UNIVERSITY CO-EDS HIKE INTO COUNTRY

Hiking is becoming more and more popular at the University of Toledo. Last week two hikes were taken. Thursday, October 18, six girls hiked ten miles through farms and orchards and finally returned to the University with a squash apiece and several apples which were obtained at the risk of their lives, for one angry son of the soil seemed set upon keeping his produce. The six girls were: Helen Leech, Rose Sax, Florence Zeldon, Mary Henry, Mable Lovell, and Margaret Egley.

Sunday morning was the time set for the next jaunt. The trip was to Maumee and vicinity, a distance of twenty-six miles and was taken by these girls: Mary Evans, Erica Steinbach, Maxine Hoke, Mamie Szumigala, Mary Henry, Dorothy Willis, Olive Gassaway, Bernice Husted, and Helen Leech. A great deal of credit is due the majority of the girls for it was their first hike this year.

ECONOMIC CLASSES STUDY LIVING COST

Economists announce that the comfortable standard of living is provided by an income of $60 and $75 a week and immediately 30 students in the economic class of Professor Overman rise in revolt against the tyranny of systemization.

"How can a group of economists and statisticians guess at the cost of living?" informed Roland Fell, a member of the class, "when they are totally unacquainted with the personal situation. The cost of living depends upon the thriftiness of the housewife, whether she disposes of the leftovers of the supper table or makes hash out of it, whether she makes that old hat last another year or gets a new one, all affect the scale of prices."

"Economists deal with the group and not with the individual," Professor Overman replied.

"But where do they get these groups when they are so disregarding the individual," names another member of the class.

In this method of attack and counterattack on the standardized economic theories the students learn the fundamentals of the science.

TALKS, FIELD TRIPS AID IN CLASSWORK

The regular class work of the students in Geology 21-A is frequently supplemented by field trips and illustrated lectures on the more important phases of geology.

Monday, Oct. 15, a group of 15 students accompanied Prof. L. C. Scott on a trip to Catawba Cliffs and Gypsum, Ohio. At the cliffs the class studied rock formations, noting traces of the glacier which passed over that part of the country. At Gypsum, they went down 60 feet into one of the gypsum mines. Here the students learned how the gypsum separated from the foreign substances which are usually found with it. Some members of the class went through the plant proper after their visit to the mine.

Another phase of the work in the geology class is the frequent use of slides in explaining theories of the origin of the earth, stars, the universe, and the solar system. Later in the course slides will also be used to show the various forms of fossil life.

One day two Englishmen and an Irishman were working on a road. As the day grew warmer, Pat the Irishman took his coat off and hung it on some bushes. When he wasn't looking the Englishmen drew a donkey's head on the coat. In the evening when the men were ready to go home, the Englishmen stood near by to see what Pat would say about the coat.

"Well", said Pat, "which one of you guys wiped his face on my coat?"

DEFIANCE NEXT FOE OF ROCKET GRIDMEN

Smarting from two successive defeats at the hands of Mt. Pleasant and Bowling Green, Toledo university's crippled football team will face another stiff game next Saturday when it bucks up against Defiance college's hopefuls on the down-river field. The Yellowjackets have not played a conference game this season but defeated Detroit 24-0 in their first contest. They bowed to Miami 42-0.

The worst injured of the players will get a rest and only those in pretty fair condition will play. Robert Warring and Glenn Charles will break into the backfield. The line may also be shaken up before game time. The week has been spent in polishing off plays and improving tackling.

Defiance will present a heavy, fast, line and a well-balanced backfield.

LIFE SAVING CLASS OPEN ON TUESDAYS

15 Freshmen, 9 Sophomores and One Senior Join Hikers

At the Woman's Athletic Association meeting on Monday, Oct. 22 Miss Marian Ernsberger, director of Women's Athletics, announced that a class in life-saving is being held at the Y. W. C. A. each Tuesday evening from seven to eight with no charge for the instruction. The course will consist of six lessons. If ten university girls pass the examination given at the end of the course the University of Toledo will receive a charter from Washington, D. C. for a university swimming corps.

Helene Cosgray, as head of hockey, reported that practices have been very good, and especially interesting because of the number of freshmen reporting.

Oleva Edler, head of hiking, reported that 476 miles have already been hiked by various ambitious coeds. So far in the year hiking points have been earned by 15 freshmen, nine sophomores and one senior. The juniors are urged to join future hikes. All interested should watch the bulletin board for announcements.

BLUFFTON DEFEATS FINDLAY, 20 TO 6

Bluffton college defeated Findlay College in a Northwestern Ohio conference game, 20 to 6, last Saturday.

Ted Cunningham played a large part in the victory due to his excellent passing and open field running. In the third quarter he received a punt and ran the entire length of the field for a touchdown.

Both teams resorted to passing attacks but Findlay's proved its undoing when Geiger, a Bluffton end, intercepted one and ran 30 yards for a score.

They have a great passing attack this year and should prove plenty tough for Toledo. They rested last week, thereby having an advantage over the Rockets.

Deane Donley, former Toledo player, will not be allowed to engage in the contest against his former mates because of the "tramp athlete" rule.

HILL AND DALE MEN TO MEET DEFIANCE

The University of Toledo cross-country team will travel to Defiance Saturday, Oct. 27.

Defiance has two veterans back in Warren Bleezard and Capt. Clayton Tooley. Carl Dille, the conference record holder for the two mile and winner of the conference cross-country meet last year, will not be in the line-up.

The Rockets will enter the meet handicapped by the loss of Karl Shull, who finds it impossible to make the trip. Then too, Edward Kutz is running with a torn muscle in his right side and Henry Phillips is having trouble with his teeth. The following men will make the trip: Capt. Ballinger, Edward Kutz, Gordon Nunemaker, Henry Presser, Henry Phillips, and Edward Kurtz. The seventh man will probably be Frank Walinski.

NEW MEGAPHONES FOR CHEERLEADERS

Two new megaphones, for use by the cheerleaders of the Toledo University have been purchased by the athletic department according to Loyal Calkins, one of the cheerleaders in the university. They will be painted in university colors and used at the next game.

SORORITY MEMBERS RUN HOT DOG STAND

The rushing season of the four sororities will begin a busy night life for the freshmen at the University. Rushing will begin November 12 and end November 24.

The silence period starts Saturday November 25 and will be maintained through Tuesday November 27.

The Pi Deltas will give the only afternoon parties on November 13 and 24. The other parties which will be held in the evening are as follows: November 14 the Psi Chis, November 15 the Kappas, November 16 the Thetas, November 17 the Psi Chis, November 19 the Kappas, November 20 the Thetas, November 21 the Pi Deltas, November 22 the Psi Chis, November 23 the Thetas, and November 24 the Kappas.

Ohio University (OCNA)—With personnel of 74, this year's Ohio University band is the largest in the history of the school. During the season it plays at all home games and makes trips to practically all the out of town games.
