This film is based on a famous 16th Century picaresque novel and deals with the adventures of a young rouse in his travels and adventures in Spain (portions filmed in Toledo, Spain), The film was the grand prize winner at the Berlin Film Festival and has received seven other international awards. It has received excellent reviews and enthusiastic response from audiences.

Admission will be free and we hope to attract a good audience for this first Committee program. We trust that our membership will support this project, so please mark your calander for January 11 and invite some of your friends. It has been suggested that some members may wish to have dinner parties and then attend the film.
