Docket: Replaces Gibbons in Sixth, and Eighth Timing Early Post Today in Lead, Thayer, Means, Arnold Star on Offense

Taken advantage of a major portion of last the University lost a 4 to 3 vote on Saturday, May 22, at Swayne Field. The Rockets were given five hits by their opponent. For Gibbons to win on the mound for the Rockets, he was replaced in the sixth inning by Harold Decker, who had Decker as the man of the game without a hit.

Comely Settled

Comely Thayer, with his usual dominating attitude, and John Arnold and Ed Means were the big men in the Rocket offense. Thayer socked early threeruns lead, but the Decker also soon got on as Gibson's delivery and by the fourth inning was out to front hit and run. An eighth inning rally settled the Rockets two runs which placed them in the lead.

Coach Comely is highly well satisfied with the results of this year's baseball season. Although the Rockets did not get on in preliminary exhibition it did develop confidence in some respects.

Bald Fishes Nodded

The battle is over and the victor is the Rockets, with the exception of one out of the best in the country. Comely is very well pleased with the department. If all the others would have followed the Rockets would have been consistent champions.

The outcome showing was at the time. Comely states that the majority of the Rockets have the field grounds which will not return. He says that the majority of the games had come as a result of failures by the coaches.

The greatest need now for several good pitchers. Seasoned veterans would have greatly aided in the field role. When one of the pitchers has gone, Comely has arranged to send in to secure him and consequently there were some big hits which took the heart out of the team.
