Dear Indiraji:

I am writing this letter about a group of twenty men and women who are students of Indian art here in Seattle and who plan to visit India this Fall. They will visit several cities and go through the museums and study our famous monuments of art, sculpture and architecture.

They will be in New Delhi on the 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th of September 1971. It would be a great honour for them to be received by you even for a few minutes on any one of these days. I know how frightfully busy you are and yet may I request you to consider the possibility of granting them a few minutes of your precious time. They are all your admirers.

I believe Dr. Richard Fuller, Founder-Director of the Seattle Art Museum (who has told us that he was your host a few years ago in Seattle) has also written to you about this visit.

I shall be grateful for a line in reply.

With kindest regards and namaskras,

Sincerely yours,

Professor S. Chandrasekhar
