Dr. William S. Carlson will be inaugurated as the tenth president of the University of Toledo at commencement on June 13. He will give the inaugural address and present diplomas to a record-size class of 660. Walter A. Eversman, president of the board of directors, will be the installing officer.

The ceremony, at 10:30 a.m. in the TU field house, is open to the public.

Dr. Carlson, who is 53, has been chief executive at TU since September. He is the former president of the State University of New York, the University of Delaware and the University of Vermont. A native of Ironwood, Mich., he was trained as a geologist at the University of Michigan, receiving the bachelor's, master's and doctor's degrees there.

At the University of Toledo he heads an institution enrolling about 7000 students in six undergraduate colleges, a junior college and a graduate division.
