

Dr. Carlson

FROM University Relations
The University of Toledo

Jerry L. Morrow/jc
531-5711, Ext. 675

December 19, 1966

FOR RELEASE UPON RECEIPT

Increasing numbers of students at The University of Toledo will have to live off campus, at least temporarily, after TU becomes a state university in July.

TU's dormitories now are filled and there is a waiting list for room rentals in the women's houses. But student enrollment is expected to increase by 2,000 next September when TU's tuition rate is made the same as at other state-supported institutions.

Edwin O. Lineberger, director of housing, said that if enrollment increases as expected there will not be enough student housing available and more students will have to find living quarters off campus.

It may also become necessary, he said, to limit the number of out-of-state students provided on-campus housing. Of the approximately 1,100 students living on campus, only 412 are Ohioans, he said. But, with tuition rates at state universities equalized, many Ohio students who now go to school outside Toledo may decide to enroll at TU.

TU now has four dormitories--Nash, White and Carter East and Carter West--for men, and two dormitories for women. These are Dowd and MacKinnon Halls.

Three floors of the five-floor Carter Hall East are set aside as living quarters for athletes. In Carter East, the athletes have their own eating hall, study hall, and meeting rooms.

Carter Hall East and West each house 270 students plus a building staff.

(more)

2/2/2

Nash and White Halls house 122 students each plus staff. Dowd Hall is home to 111 co-eds, and MacKinnon Hall houses 155 girls.

TU, whose enrollment has been forecast at 31,000 by 1975, plans to increase its dormitory space to 1,700 by 1968, to 2,300 by 1971, to 3,500 by 1973, and to 4,700 by 1975. However, decisions have not been reached on the type of accommodation to be built, nor where on the campus such housing will be constructed.

In addition to the dormitories, TU now has World War II wooden structures to house families of 40 married students.

Mr. Lineberger said that this year, dormitory housing was available to all male students who applied. But this was not true for application from women students, he said. A number of them had to find housing off-campus, while living quarters were available to 266 on campus.

TU does not have a preferred list of off-campus housing. Dr. William S. Carlson, University president, said rental of off-campus accommodations is, and should be, the responsibility of the student, and the student's parents.

Rental for on campus rooms is $200 a semester, and the students must eat in University dining halls which costs $210 a semester. In addition, dormitory students pay an $8 a semester health service fee. Married students pay $45 a month for the unfurnished wooden structures.