FOR RELEASE UPON RECEIPT

Four state legislators representing northwestern Ohio districts have accepted invitations to attend a dinner meeting sponsored by The University of Toledo chapter of the American Association of University professors Monday, Dec. 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the University Club on the main campus.

Dr. Donald J. Yankovic, assistant professor of economics and president of the AAUP chapter, said that the dinner meeting is planned to give UT faculty members an opportunity to discuss issues affecting higher education which are under consideration in the Ohio legislature.

Attending the dinner meeting will be state senators M. Ben Gaeth, Defiance, (R., District 1), and John A. Galbraith, Maumee, (R., District 69), and representatives Casey C. Jones, Toledo, (D., District 45), and Irma L. Karmol, Sylvania, (R., District 44).

Dr. Glen R. Driscoll, president of the University, also will attend.

A social hour preceding the dinner is scheduled for 5:30 p.m. with the discussion to begin at 7:45 p.m. A $6 charge will be made for dinner, but the discussion following will be free and open to all University personnel, Dr. Yankovic said.

Further information and reservations may be obtained by calling Dr. Yankovic, director of the UT Center for Economic Education, at 537-4153.
