

DR. PHILIP C. NASH, U. OF TOLEDO HEAD

President of University Since
1933 Dies—Former Director of League of Nations Group

TOLEDO, Ohio, May 6 (AP)—Dr. Philip C. Nash, president of the University of Toledo since 1933, died today in Toledo Hospital. His age was 56. Dr. Nash had been ill with a heart ailment since Oct. 10, 1946.

Dr. Nash was executive director of the League of Nations Association from 1929 to 1933, and had been active in campaigns to have the United States join the League and the World Court.

In an address at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia on April 11, 1945, he scored the proposed method of voting in the United Nations Security Council. He declared that the veto authority vested in the great powers would enable one of them to block completely "any world-wide attempt to prevent or forestall aggression by one of its satellites."

Born in Hingham, Mass., the son of Louis Philip and E. Harriot Curtis Nash, he received an A.B. degree in 1911 and an M.C.E. degree in 1912 from Harvard, an honorary doctorate in engineering from the Case School of Applied Science in 1937 and LL.D. degrees from Northeastern University in 1938 and from Antioch College in 1944.

Dr. Nash was assistant engineer of the Boston Transit Commission from 1912 to 1917, professor of civil engineering at Northeastern from 1919 to 1921 and dean of Antioch College from 1921 to 1929.

He was moderator of the American Unitarian Association from 1942 to 1944 and president of the Association of Urban Universities in 1945. During the first World War he served as a captain, First Replacement Regiment Engineers, Washington (D. C.) Barracks, and as director of Military Trade Schools there.

A former president of the Ohio College Association, Dr. Nash was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa Society, Delta Upsilon and the Toledo Club.

He leaves a widow, two daughters, Erma and Jeanne, and a son, Curtis.

DR. PHILIP C. NASH

Underwood & Underwood, 1933

F. HERBERT BROWN

Retired Inventor, Merchant, 70
Ex-Aide of Thomas Edison

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., May 6—F. Herbert Brown, retired inventor and wholesale material merchant of White Plains, N. Y., died here last night. His age was 70.

Born in Washington, he was the son of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Theodore Brown. A one-time associate of Thomas A. Edison, Mr. Brown invented a lathe used on motor transports in France in the first World War.

He leaves a widow and a daughter, Miss Dorothy Brown.

Other obituaries on Pages 30, 31.

Deaths

COHEN—Max. Sorrowful announcement made of the death of our Brother, a 11 member of Golden Rule Lodge, 770, F. and A. M. Masonic Funeral Services this evening at 8:30 o'clock, at Flinch's, 34 Hempstead Ave., Lynbrook, L. I. Members please attend.
JOSEPH SWERSEY, Master.

SIEGFRIED STEINBERG, Secretary.
DORFIN—Adolphe, beloved brother of the late Fanny Schneck and Paul Dorfler, reverend uncle and cousin. Services at the Chapel, 1 Ludlow St., New York City, today, at 2 P. M.

DRUMMOND—Howard, suddenly, on May 1947, devoted husband of Lulu H. Drummond. Services at St. James Church, Madison at 71st St., New York City, Thursday, May at 10 A. M. Interment private.

EDDY—Josephine Harveys, at Ridgewood, N. Y. May 6, 1947, beloved wife of the late Charles H. Eddy. Funeral service private.

EICHNER—Moritz, beloved husband of Sophie. Services Thursday, 1 P. M., at "The Riverside," 76th St. and Amsterdam Ave. Flowers omitted.