Ken Colthorpe

Congratulations on your retirement, Ken! We in Tech. Services have enjoyed working with you over the years ... we've had a variety of missions. (I can remember a time when you thought two squares of steel were bolted to the floor of the F-27!)

Of course cramming the variety of cargo in place which Ignition Conferences require is an art which I hope you've passed along to those following you. Speaking of the Ignition Conference, there would have been more pictures of you in the Conference Minutes had the photographer not always caught you with a you-know-what!

Seriously, Ken, our best wishes to you and Corinne for a long and happy retirement!

Sincerely,

Tech. Services

P.S. In case you'd like to go flying in a little one some time, let Lane or Walker know ... I'm sure they would be glad to oblige.
