
LLADRO - the Porcelain of Spain - premieres in Toledo

Closing Scene,
9 1/2" high by 14 1/4" long.

When one thinks of porcelain, one thinks of Spain. Lladro (pronounced yah-dro) porcelain has been instrumental in making Spanish porcelain world famous. The Lladro style is unique, a combination of the talents of three brothers born to a peasant farmer in Almacera, Spain.

Toledo will have the honor of hosting Juan Lladro, the eldest of the sons, for a special showing of Lladro porcelain. Mr. Lladro
