

July 8th, 1927.

Inspector Delehaunty:

As per my verbal orders a few days ago, I want you to inspect the entire police department, buildings, automobiles and uniforms of the men.

I want the Whippet crews closely inspected as to the condition of their clothes and their automobiles.

I want all outlying stations inspected, as well as the East Side Station.

I shall expect a detailed report from you July 20th as to your findings.

Chief of Police.
